

Animalistic.

Preface:

Over the years the homosapien race inhabited the world and filled the earth with their waste. All this trash and garbage poisoned the oceans and lakes, it polluted the air we breathe, it rotted the earth, and caused the ozone to be seriously damaged. People around the world have made several attempts to correct these issues of pollution, but they did not work fast enough. All these harmful attacks on the earth caused certain toxins to form and ravel through the air. These toxins have a serious effect on some people around the world.

The toxins were absorbed into the bodies of humans. Some people experienced a serious change in their body. The toxins affect their DNA makeup and cause a mutation to form. It triggers the animal ancestry found in the DNA strands. This causes the person to mutate into a form that resembles some type of animal. It grows from their body and dominates their physical appearance.

Sine of the time the mutation is simple and just alters the person's body and physical appearance, and sometimes the person can also have some powerful abilities. The mutation can be controlled by the person. The person can decide when to unleash the animalistic form or they can keep it hidden. During heighten emotional stress however; the animalistic form can be unleashed with out the person controlling it. It is a personal battle that they all must face.

No one knows for sure who has these animalistic capabilities. Most of the individuals that have these abilities keep it hidden from the outside world. They do not want to be discriminated on or worst. There is rumor and hearsay about people having these animal like appearance, but there hasn't yet been any real strong proof out in the media. Because of fear, the small animalistic community hides from society and from each other. Many think they are alone and do not know that there are many like them around the world.

One thing is sure; these people will not continue to hide for ever. Day is coming when their presence will be known to everyone around the world. These "animal people" are going to have to figure out how they will live in a world where people see them as different. They can choose to hide all their life or they can choose to take a stand.
